About The Nova Scotia Talent Trust

The NSTT was established in 1944, primarily to support the opera singer Portia White in her quest for further music education. By 1949 the organization had dedicated itself to supporting promising artists of all artistic disciplines in their formative stages of their education or training. To date the NSTT has provided scholarships to more than 1900 recipients.

The NS Talent Trust is celebrating their 75th anniversary in 2019. During that year the Talent Trust wants to showcase as many scholarship recipients as possible. The Visual Arts Exhibitions will be venues for readings, film screenings, artist talks, and music and dance performances of Talent Trust scholarship recipients.
